DEAD IN THE STREETS.

It was a child lay still in the city's street.
With its head on the steps of stone,
For it had been only half its mother's breast.
That the little hand had known no rage.
The frozen limbs with icy panting rage
Had sought now to fear from the storm,
Yet the snow came down in the wintry night
And covered the child's form.

It was a carriage roll'd over the stony way,
And a many form with Revolving car.
Did he stand? Did he sit?
Did he die?

There was a wretched woman came seeking
For the snow seemed to shrink her.

For dishonor and death were both written thereon.

Cultivation and Preservation of Winter Cabbage.
The following article from the Southern Farmer (Memphis) for June, is worthy the attention of farmers' and gardeners, especially the latter:

It is now time to think about our winter cabbages. From the 20th of June to 1st of July prepare a bed to bring forward the young plants. It should be in a situation partially shaded by trees. Make it quite rich by incorporating a beautiful supply of well-rotted stable manure, and have no clods larger than peas. Pulverize with rake and hounds until the soil feels soft as velvet to the touch. If the weather be dry then saturate the bed with water before sowing, and as soon as it will work well then after stir up the surface and draw drills one foot apart and half inch deep; sow and cover the seed, patting the surface smooth with a spade or broad shovel. If the weather is quite dry and hot make the surface quite firm, otherwise let the blows be lighter. In forty-eight hours or less, if the seeds are fresh, the young plants will begin to appear; watch for them very closely, and when they crack the ground, sprinkle them with sot or slaked lime, which continues to do every morning before sunrise until they begin to make rough leaves. When all danger of the fly is past you may remove this attention and thin the plants to an inch apart in the drill. Another precaution against the fly may as well be mentioned. Let a lot of urine accumulate until it is foaming and cold. It will then begin to penetrate to the small:

water in one direction, and the sunset. The odor will drive the insect and push the plants rapidly forward.

The soil and preparation for late cabbages need not be so high as for the early ones. Twenty tons of manure to the acre, on soil already good, will be found sufficient. The plowing should be deep and the harrowing smooth, to facilitate after culture. The large kinds should be set in checks, three feet apart each way. The Savoys may be put out thirty inches apart.

Transplanting should be delayed until about the 10th of August, for this latitude, five days later for each degree South, and five earlier for each degree North. It is best to lay off for days for a "seedling." But if none occurs go ahead without fear, following the directions now to be given: Draw the plants late in the afternoon and keep them saturated with water (wetting the bed thoroughly before beginning to draw); at the intersections of the checks (made with line and marker) stick a hole with the dibbler, and into it pour a pint of water; whilst some of the water still remains insert the plant and put the dirt firmly about the roots, leaving dry dirt on the surface. It will hardly be necessary to have recourse to further watering, but if the plants wilt very much (which it is not likely they will), give more watering in the afternoon, and insure their safety.

The after cultivation is very simple, and most frequently between the rows, by running the spike tooth cultivator both ways, and hoe lightly about the plants until they begin to expand.

To preserve the crop is easily done. On the approach of hard freezing weather, in December, prepare a trench four feet wide and eighteen inches deep, which should be drained by a covered drain leading to a ditch giving thorough outlet for the water. Pull up the cabbages and stand them upright, roots and heads up, as they grow a little dirt over the roots as you pull them in. Or they may be set up on the surface and an embankment made round to protect from freezing. Cover over, in either case, with grass and corn stalks to keep out frost.

About four thousand eight hundred drumhead cabbages may be grown to the acre, which, at ten cents each, will pay the farmer better than any farm crop he can put in. Northern growers cannot send them here at the price we have named; hence we earnestly recommend our farmers to carefully consider the matter of growing winter cabbages for market. At a cost fixed they have no superior.

A good acre of ground ought to produce fifty tons of cabbages, which will keep milk cows in a fine flesh and a bountiful flow of milk. Try it; nothing will pay better.

The rationale of growing cabbages in the fall is soon told. They belong naturally to a cool moist climate, hence we must cultivate in that season of the year which most nearly meets the requirements of their nature. We have before remarked that the turnip and the cabbage belong to the same family. Now who would think of growing turnips in this latitude in June? There is no more reason in sowing cabbages in the sun at the same time. Neither will grow until the nights begin to grow cool in September and the fall of dew is copious.

BLIND STAGGERS IN HORSES.—The American Stock Journal, commenting on the blind staggers in horses, says that the first thing to be done in a case of this kind is to relieve the pressure of blood about the head of the animal by copious blood letting. The jugular vein should be tapped and so much blood be taken as will serve to restore the animal to the command of its limbs. The quantity proper to be taken can be pretty accurately determined by the number of veins that are to be seen.

When the horse shows signs of being relieved, the flow of blood should be checked, the cause of the attack sought for, and medicines given in accordance with the symptoms. If the attack proceeded from an over-distension of the stomach, the pump should be brought into use, and a free application of warm water be made. Medicines calculated to give freedom to the bowels will be found beneficial.

SAME THE PLUMS.—A correspondent of the New York paper, says that for the last three years he has succeeded in growing as fine a crop of plums as need be desired by smoking the trees from the time the blossoms begin to fall, until about the first of July. His manner of treatment was as follows: He procured a large sheet-iron pan in which he made a fire of chips or anything else that would kindle freely. When the fire is in full blast, he smothered the blaze with grass, which produced a dense smoke. He carried this pan around his trees and smoked them in this manner completely. He made this application every evening and morning, giving the trees a thorough smoking, and continuing the process until the curculio season was over.

RIVER MAIL.—Arrives Wednesday and Sunday evenings. E. GAGE, P. M.

Funeral services will be held at the Baptist Church, Sunday, June 7th, 1868, at 10 o'clock, A. M., by Rev. N. N. Cowgill.

MATTERS IN DYER COUNTY.—Eugene G. Hill, of Dyerburg, an able and prominent lawyer died at that place last week. He was one of the most eloquent speakers that West Tennessee ever produced.

We have favorable accounts from the black crop of Dyer county. The yield will be a third larger this season than it was last year.

GEO. NEWS.—If you want cheap home-made furniture, call on Charles Oswald, at his new building.

FARMERS READ THIS.—H. M. Robinson, at the Hickman Mills wants every bushel of wheat you can spare, for which he will pay the highest market price. Why will farmers seek other points when they can find just as good a market at home?

We urge especially upon the attention of the citizens of Fulton and of the adjoining Tennessee counties to consult their own interest by encouraging home manufacture. Keep the money earned of our own wheat in our midst by selling it to home manufacturers, instead of sending it off to enrich other sections.

Fulton County Court.

At a County Court, began and held for Fulton county, on Monday, June 1st, 1868, present Hon. B. R. Walker, presiding Judge, H. A. Tyler, County Attorney, G. W. Stubblefield, Sheriff, Wm. Herrin, Sheriff, and John Andy Wilson, Clerk.

ADMINISTRATION SETTLEMENTS.—Ordered by the Court that the Administration settlements of J. W. Mayes, administrator of H. Fleetwood, deceased; A. Z. Upshaw, administratrix of T. B. Upshaw; J. H. Atterberry, executor of Isaac McNeese, and J. A. McClellan, executor of S. P. McClellan, are hereby confirmed.

ORDERS.—Ordered that Alice Z. Upshaw, be and is hereby released from further liability as administratrix of T. B. Upshaw.

The report of Elizabeth Smith, guardian of E. J. Carr, was produced in open Court, and ordered to be recorded.

The Court appointed G. H. Thompson, administrator of James Alexander, deceased, whereupon, the said Thompson, with James Mott as his security, was duly qualified.

B. F. Ladd was appointed guardian for Georgia Franklin and Nettie Franklin, heirs at law of M. B. Franklin—Seizing, W. H. Reper.

SHERIFFALTY.—Ordered by the Court that Wm. Herrin appear before the present Court and show cause, if any, he has or can have, why the office of Sheriff of Fulton county, shall not be declared vacant on account of his failure to execute Revenue bond for the year 1868, as required by law.

Whereupon the said Herrin, personally appeared in open Court, and by attorney entered his appearance to the proceedings herein, and the matters of law and fact arising in the case being fully heard and considered by the Court, it is adjudged that said office of Sheriff of Fulton county, Ky., is vacated by law on account of such failure, and that the same be so declared upon the record.

Ordered by the Court, that Henry Campbell, he and he is hereby appointed Sheriff of Fulton county, and is to be compensated by the removal of Wm. Herrin, until the next August election, and his successor elected and qualified.

ADMINISTRATOR.—John T. Buck, was appointed and qualified as administrator of the estate of Sam'l D. Buck, deceased. Security, H. S. Robinson.

Court adjourned until Saturday, the 10th day of June, at 10 o'clock.

MATERIALS of every description, and Spring bottoms for beds—one of the best inventors of those ages, now on hand and for sale by Chas. Oswald.

THE INDIAN DOCTOR.—The Indian Doctor publishes this week a certificate from the residents of Hickman, which reflects great credit upon his skill and ability as a physician. We hear of other cases in which he has performed remarkable cures. He refers the public to patients who are now or have been under his treatment, which is often the best evidence of his ability. He will be glad to perform what he proposes to do. Next week he hopes to be able to publish several other important certificates from citizens of our town.

PROVIDERS.—Persons having Furniture repaired can save time and money by calling on Oswald's Furniture Manufacturer.

A Republican caucus in Washington broke up, the other day, because Mr. Trumbull went into it, whereas the New York Evening Post inquires what is a Republic?

The U. S. Senate have rejected the nomination of Mr. Stanbury as Attorney General. He is rejected on the grounds of his hostility to the reconstructionists. Under the peculiar circumstances of the case this action is peculiarly infamous.

A Called Meeting of the Citizens of Fulton County.

On Monday last, it being County Court, a large portion of the citizens of Fulton county assembled at the Court House, where the following proceedings were had.

Major John A. Lauderdale stated the object of the meeting to be to obtain an expression of public sentiment with reference to the outrage committed by some unknown persons by the murder of a negro boy Sunday night last in this county.

J. H. Dodds was called to the Chair, and H. A. Tyler, appointed Secretary. On motion of Major Lauderdale, W. B. McConnell, G. S. Miles, and J. H. Davis, were appointed a committee to draft resolutions expressing the views of this meeting.

The Chair added Major Lauderdale to the committee.

Gen. McClellan's name as Minister of War will be withdrawn during the week and Rosser Johnson will probably be appointed. The Senate will not confirm McClellan.

Secretary Seward, on Friday, informed one of the leading diplomats in Washington, that he had had time tendered his resignation, and information from other quarters tend to confirm it.

Prominent Democrats from different sections will hold a political caucus at Philadelphia next week.

SENATOR POMEROY OF KANSAS.—The Leavenworth (Kansas) Conservative says that it was "to try" when Senator Pomeroy, of Kansas, offered, through his brother-in-law, to Colonel Cooper, to give four votes against impeachment for $40,000. He was to dispose of his own vote, and three others of his Radical colleagues, for that sum.

The Conservative thus enlightens us in regard to Pomeroy's antecedents in politics.

Pomeroy and his brother-in-law are both in this business of buying and selling bonds. The first advent of the Civil War in Kansas was in 1861, when the Republican members of Congress, Senator over Marcus A. Smith, and Senator over Marcus A. Smith, paid them out of the money deposited with him by the generous people of the East to purchase food and raiment for the starving poor of Kansas. Men are now living in Kansas who know about the amount paid to each member, and some who saw a portion of the money paid to the purchased. It appears he is not now in the purchasing line; he is occupying the role of salesman! Kaufman, are you not proud of your Senator?

Resolved, That we consider this action as a wicked and unwarried, in any view of time, and deserving the contempt and reprobation of all honest, just, and law-abiding citizens.

At the conclusion of Judge Kingman's remarks, the committee through their chairman, Major John A. Lauderdale, presented the following resolutions which were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, This meeting of citizens of Fulton county, Ky., are really informed of the fact that it is to be known to all who are in this country, at least, that the reputation of being a hardened and impulsive, innocent of any misconductsofar as we are informed. Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That we consider this action as a wicked and unwarried, in any view of time, and deserving the contempt and reprobation of all honest, just, and law-abiding citizens.

2. That we feel compelled to demand to the court that we do not believe that the act was perpetrated by the citizens of this country; but by parties residing out of this State; and we warn such parties to abstain from such acts, and leave us no nameless here as we have been done in this case.

3. That we denounce this particular action as wicked and lawless, and will do all in our power to prevent its repetition; and that the laws of the country are designed for good citizens to prevent such acts in their prosecution, and the guilty perpetrators to a just punishment.

4. That with few exceptions, the negroes of this country have been honest, industrious, and peaceful, and have won the favor and protection of their former masters; and that the laws of the country are designed for their rights and safety in their protection, and to defend them nothing, and may prove a blessing. THE CLOTHES FOR ALL OUR GUARDS.—The Granada (Miss.) Sentinel gives of the following:

When William III, crossed the channel from his Holland home to become the King of England, his people called him the "King's English" without a scruple.

3. That we denounce this particular action as wicked and lawless, and will do all in our power to prevent its repetition; and that the laws of the country are designed for good citizens to prevent such acts in their prosecution, and the guilty perpetrators to a just punishment.

4. Resolved, That while we do utterly condemn the act which has called us together, and as a general thing approve the conduct of the people of this country, yet we do not believe that the citizens of this country, in their desire to protect their rights and safety in their prosecution, and the guilty perpetrators to a just punishment.

On motion of Major John A. Lauderdale, it was resolved, That the Hickman Courier, and all other papers favorable to the observance and preservation of order, be requested to publish the proceedings of this meeting.

The meeting then adjourned sine die.
